ROAD MEETING DREW WELL.

Washington County One of Three in Which Every Town Has Accepted State's Offer.

Montpelier, April 7.—Every road commissioner and superintendent of streets in Washington county, with the selection of several of the towns and Mayor Dawley of this city attended the spring meeting of county road commissioners held today in the city court room under the direction of the Hon. C. W. Gates of Franklin, State highway commissioner.

Previous to the opening of the meeting, State Commissioner Gates stated to a Free Press reporter that Franklin, Washington and Grand Isle counties are the only counties in the State in which every town has taken advantage of the law appropriating additional money for highway purposes.

Last year every town in Washington county except Roxbury and Worcester voted such extra money and this year every town is in line. In 1907 the total amount in this county was $4,300, this year the amount is $4,950.

Commissioner Gates also stated that last year 181 towns in the State voted an additional $4,000 for this purpose and this year 182 towns have voted an additional $4,950.

At the morning session Commissioner Gates spoke somewhat at length of the mistakes made in several towns in the State last year in the location of permanent highways and in the kind of work done. Although he gave the names of the towns his talk along this line was most interesting.

In this connection he advised employing an engineer in laying out all important pieces of work and stated that the bill for such services will be allowed by the State. Mr. Gates called the attention of the commissioners to the fact that all State work this year must be done by September 1st.

At the afternoon session Commissioner Gates discussed at some length upon the repairs of State roads, a number of which were built last year. Mr. S. Currier of Barre, county supervisor, discussed with the commissioner the work to be laid out and done in this county this year.

State Attorney Benjamin Gates was asked to explain the law regarding the cutting of bushes, grass and weeds along the highway. Attorney Gates was filled with numerous questions and an interesting discussion of this question followed.

Commissioner Gates followed, urging the road commissioners of the county to get their town and State work done early in the season. He said a commissioner who runs his road machine for regular work after the first of July is as foolish as a farmer who plants his corn or sows his oats after that date.

An informal discussion closed the day's proceedings, which was participated in by Mayor Frank R. Dawley of Montpelier, E. W. Huntley of Burlington and Street Commissioners C. B. Roberts of Montpelier, Fred Bruce of Barre, J. O. Southwick of Cabot, and others.

SEVENTH VERMONT REUNION.

Norfield, April 7.—John L. Mosely, president of the Seventh Regiment Veterans' association, announces that the next annual reunion of the association will be held at the Barlow Hotel in Rutland June 24 and 25. The business meeting of the regiment will take place on the evening of the 24th and the day following will be given to a trip to Lake Umbagog.

SLIGHT HITCH SETTLING THE GRANITE STRIKE.

Montpelier, April 8.—The settlement of the granite strike in this vicinity resolved a slight hitch back this afternoon when the Barre quarries held a mass meeting to vote on the proposition recently submitted to them by the quarry owners that as a compromise measure that they should receive 25 cents an hour for an eight hour day. The quarrymen, after a small majority voted to accept the eight-hour day proposition but referred the price to the committee. No settlement can be held to have been effected tonight but it is believed another meeting will be held tomorrow and that the matter will be adjusted.

TOOL SHARPENERS SATISFIED.

A settlement satisfactory to all concerned was made today with the tool sharpeners. This agreement runs for three years, the sharpeners to receive $3 a day for eight hours for the first year, $4 for the second year and $5 for the third year. This agreement includes weekly payments and a bill of prices for piece work.

If the settlement with the quarries goes through tomorrow as it is believed it will, it is thought a settlement can be easily effected with the polishers, lampers, boxers and other workers who are anxious to return to work.

SMART DOG HIKED HOME.

Terry of Sky III the 40-Mile Trail Back Unhappily.

Rutland, April 8.—Dr. W. W. Townsend of this city claims to have the smartest dog in Vermont. A few days ago he sold his fox terrier Terry of Sky, a famous dog winner, to Westport, N. Y. dog fanciers.

The animal was shipped by express and arrived in New York last night. Terry was shut up for a few days to get him accustomed to his new surroundings and then he was let out to play with the other dogs. Hardly had the canine smelled the open air before he made a bee line for the lake and Dr. Townsend was somewhat surprised the following day when Terry turned up in his former home here, having evidently made the 60 miles on foot. The dog has decided not to sell the dog.

WILL DEPORT CRYLON TRAMP.

James Smith, colored, a native of Ceylon, convicted of the House of Correction for vagrancy from Rutland city court, has completed his sentence and is being held on request of Col. S. Forbes, Immigration Inspector, with the probability that he will be deported. Smith is claimed to have got into the United States unlawfully via the Canadian border and is suffering from tuberculosis of the skin.

Archie Goodrich of St. Albans, who has been confined in the House of Correction since March 2, on a charge of larceny, has just been ordered out for a deformity of one of his legs growing out of a false bone. Goodrich carries the St. Albans authorities will graciously release him when he is arrested he was taken from the St. Albans Jail and taken to the St. Albans Jail, where he was held for a few days before being sent to the House of Correction.

Superintendent D. L. Morgan of the House of Correction has received two indictments from Burlington, Md., against Burton W. Ingalls, who has just been sentenced to the institution for defrauding a hotel keeper here. The charges are for defrauding a hotel keeper at Rutland and for defrauding a hotel keeper at Burlington. Ingalls will be held for the Maryland authorities.

HIGHWAY TALK.

Annual Meeting of County Road Commissioners Held Yesterday.

The annual meeting of the Chittenden county road commissioners was held yesterday at the Masonic Temple hall, when there was an attendance of nearly 30 commissioners and first sections, representing the different towns in the county. The meeting was the most successful ever held in Burlington and much enthusiasm was shown.

The forenoon session, which began at ten o'clock, was taken up with a talk by C. W. Gates, State highway commissioner. Mr. Gates explained about the importance of careful expenditure of State money in the improvement of highways and told of the mistakes made in that direction in the past. He emphasized the importance of the drainage and alignment of roads and the need of widening, straightening and correct grading. The above needs, he said, were really the only improvements that could be made with the State money at present. He advocated that more and better work be done on the road surfaces and the more frequent use of gravel. He said that these improvements would not bring the roads to a correct condition, but that it would prepare them for the permanent improvements that would be made in the future. He also had particular stress on the finishing of surfaces.

In the afternoon Herald Stevens, county supervisor and H. M. McIntosh, city engineer, addressed the meeting. Mr. Stevens closed the meeting by speaking on the care of the State roads already constructed and on the care of the main highways. He explained the importance of careful daily work on the highways and the good results to be derived therefrom and the need of keeping back roads in repair in justice to taxpayers who rely on the frequent use of the roads.

The number of towns last year to take advantage of act 4, Vermont statutes, in which the State appropriates a certain sum of money for the permanent improvement of highways, was 181, and $45,444 was voted. This year there were 182 towns and $46,000 was voted. This increase is considered a fair endorsement of the frequent use of gravel.

The following road commissioners were present: A. L. Bancroft, E. B. Smith and H. H. Claxton, Chittenden; E. J. Cameron, Colchester; William O'Brien, Essex; J. H. Gates, Hinesburg; G. S. Brewster, Huntington; John S. Williams, Jericho; J. W. Robinson, Milton; T. M. Terrien, Richmond; James Cox, Shelburne; W. H. Smith, South Burlington; Fred Davis, St. Albans; William McNamee, Underhill; P. B. Adams and P. N. Irish, Westford; E. C. Forbes, Williston.

CHORUS ORGANIZED.

Burlington Philharmonic Society Formed and a President Elected.

The Burlington Philharmonic society was launched on a musical sea last evening. Whether the good star will weather the stormy deep and eventually arrive safe in port, remains to be seen.

About 50 people of the city, interested in the formation of a chorus, met at the Y. M. C. A. hall last evening. The Burlington Philharmonic society, Dr. C. B. Stetson, as temporary chairman, called the meeting to order and after a short talk stated that nominations for president of the society were in order. G. D. Jarvis and Robert Roberts were nominated for the office and a vote by ballot was taken. Mr. Roberts being elected. The whole number of ballots cast was 52. Mr. Roberts receiving 34 and Mr. Jarvis 18. It was voted that the president should have the power of appointing an executive committee of ten persons, composed of five men and five women.

The advisability of the society holding a musical festival was then discussed, but nothing definite was settled regarding the matter. Mr. Jarvis will give a free rehearsal, where he will advance his ideas on the festival subject. Mr. Chapman will also give a free rehearsal to four of the two above named gentlemen will undoubtedly be chosen to conduct the chorus.

VERMONT NOTES.
